Hj Tony!

It was really great to hear from you. Sorry it took us so long to get back to you. Friends of ours had copies of this article and we were hoping their copies were better than ours. We finally were able to get together with them and as luck would have it, their copies were exactly the same.

We tell everyone that building this house was the best thing we ever did. So many people have horror stories to tell about having a home built. But our experience was just the opposite-WE LOVED IT!!

We truly enjoyed the opportunity to meet you guys and we still talk about how much fun it was to come up to your shop and plan our house. And in case I never said it-thanks for letting me come up and carve a timber of my own. Putting my initials on it was a nice touch. I point it out to everyone who has taken the "Klessel House Tour".

Everytime I see a timber frame home going up, I look at Marsha and say I wish we could do it again. But what do we do when we have the perfect house in a perfect location?

We were very pleased and proud to see our house in your brochure. We show it to everyone. Enclosed is a copy of the local newspaper article which recently featured our house. Don't ask were the "lucky nails" come from. I think she misunderstood when we told her about Marsha "nailing" an evergreen to the peak of the house when the frame was completed. I'm sure you will recognize some of the words-you wrote them for our house raising 10 years ago!!

Best regards,
